Chapter 1. SERVICE PROVISION TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. These Regulations specify the terms and conditions pursuant to which OnAudience.com Service is ordered and provided, as offered by OnAudience Ltd with its registered office in the United Kingdom, Craven House, 40-44 Uxbridge Road, London, W5 2BS, entered into the register of entrepreneurs of the Companies House, under number 10308972, hereinafter referred to as the Service Provider.

2. OnAudience.com Service may only be ordered after the Customer has been acquainted with these Regulations. The Customer shall be obliged to fulfill any obligations hereunder throughout the term of provision of the OnAudience.com Service. Any acts on behalf of the Customer that are in breach of their obligations specified hereunder shall be deemed to constitute a failure to perform or an undue performance of the Agreement concluded. In such a case, Service Provider shall be authorized to terminate the Agreement with an immediate effect and exercise its other rights set forth herein and in other applicable legal regulations. In the event of the termination of the Agreement with an immediate effect, the Customer is not relieved from the obligation to pay the Service Provider remuneration due for the period in which the Service was provided for the Customer.

3. The OnAudience.com Service comprise User profiling tools, with a particular emphasis on features that are not considered to constitute personal data under the in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data and repealing Directive 95/46 / EC (“GDPR”) (Journal of Laws of the EU L of 4 May 2016). The Service constitutes making available the Data Management Platform technology to the Customer, enabling him to use Data Warehouse in order to process 1st Party Data.

4. In each case related to the data processing in accordance with these Terms and Conditions, please contact our Data Protection Officer. The contact details of our data protection officer are: privacy@onaudience.com

5. Whenever used in these Regulations, the terms listed below shall have the following meaning:

   1) Regulations – these OnAudience.com Service provision regulations.
   2) Parties – Service Provider and the Customer, referred to jointly.
   3) Customer – a legal or natural person or an organizational entity without legal personality, capable of assuming obligations or acquiring rights on their own behalf, that has concluded the Service Provision Agreement.
   4) Service – access to the Data Management Platform enabling the use of data acquired from in-house sources (1st party data). As part of the Service, the Data Warehouse assigns an anonymous ID to ensure full anonymity of data. The precise scope of the Service is listed in the Order Form.
   5) System – software, as well as the professional knowledge and expertise (know-how) of Service Provider, made available to the Customer pursuant to the Agreement in order to enable the management of 1st party data.
   6) Data Warehouse – software constituting a component of the OnAudience.com Service, enabling collection and processing of information, made available under the Software-as-a-Service (“SaaS”) formula.
   7) 1st Party Data – data concerning the Users, acquired from the customer’s own sources. These data shall not constitute personal data in the meaning of GDPR
   8) 3rd Party Data – data concerning the Users, acquired from external sources and without any involvement of the Customer. These data shall not constitute personal data in the meaning of GDPR.
   9) Source Data – information acquired with the use of Analyzing Scripts
   10) Processed Data – information acquired after analysis of the Source Data.
11) User Profile – a set of Source Data and Processed Data, as collected in the Data Warehouse, related to the User.

12) User – an entity/terminal identified with the use of a “cookie” or a similar technology. Based on the above technology, it is not possible to identify any natural person.

13) Agreement – Service Provision Agreement concluded between Service Provider and the Customer. Order Form and these Regulations constitute the Agreement.

14) Conclusion of Agreement – the agreement between the Customer and Service Provider is deemed concluded after the Order Form has been signed by the Customer, in line with the procedure set forth in these Regulations. The agreement is deemed to be concluded on the date on which the authorized representative of the Customer (Party representative) has placed their signature, at least in the form of a scan submitted by e-mail to the address specified, or submitted by regular mail.

15) Order Form – Data Management Platform Order Form specifying the scope of the Service signed by the Customer.

16) Confidential Information - information referred to in Chapter 8 and concerned with the business activity of Service Provider and its affiliated entities, as long as such information is provided in relation to the performance of the Agreement.

4. Service Provider hereby reserves the right to amend the provisions of the Regulations at any time for a valid reason. The Regulations may be amended, in particular, due to the need to adapt their wording to the applicable legal regulations or due to other circumstances. The amended Regulations shall enter into effect once they have been published on the website. The Customer shall be bound by the provisions of the amended Regulations, unless they terminate the Agreement within 30 days from being notified about the amendment of the Regulations.

5. Should individual provisions of these Regulations be considered under the applicable laws to be invalid or unenforceable, the validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of the present Regulations shall remain unaffected. Such an invalid provision shall be replaced by a provision the aim of which is equivalent or as close as possible to the original aim of the unenforceable provisions.

6. The signing of the Agreement by signing the Order Form and acceptance of the Regulations by the Customer shall be considered precedent conditions to the commencement of the provision of the Service. The Customer shall be required to become acquainted, prior to signing the Order Form, with the wording of these Regulations.

7. The signing of the Service Provision Agreement by the Customer shall be equivalent to the acceptance of these Regulations.

8. The Service Provider may provide the Customer with the possibility of signing the Order Form in electronic form by means of appropriate tools made available by the Service Provider.

9. Provision of the Service will start within 3 business days from the moment of notifying the Service Provider on signing of the Order Form and sending the scanned version to the indicated email or sending the original via postal service. In the case of sending the scanned version of the Order Form, the Customer is also obliged to immediately provide the Service Provider with two copies of the Order Form. The provision of the Service may be delayed due to the reasons attributable to the Customer, in particular for technical reasons.

Chapter 2. REPRESENTATIONS AND OBLIGATIONS OF PARTIES

d) are not used to determine the identity of the User;
e) are used on the Website, based on the consent of the Website User expressed through appropriate software settings, in particular through a web browser.

7. The User may at any time revoke or change the scope of any previously expressed consent to use cookie files on the Website and delete them from your browser.

8. The user may also at any time limit or disable cookie files in your browser through the settings. In this case, however, your use of the Website may be less efficient, you may not have access to certain content or be able to use some of the Website’s functionalities, and in extreme cases the correct display of the Website pages may be completely blocked.

9. The Service Provider retains cookie files for a period of 12 months, but is not able to give the retention period concerning his partners, so please consider checking their privacy policy.

10. The Data Warehouse supports the following mechanisms:
   a) Do-not-track managed under Internet Browser settings,
   b) Opt-Out managed via http://www.onaudience.com/opt-out

11. The Customer is required to enable users to take advantage of the Opt-Out mechanism, as well as to inform its partners about Opt-Out.

12. The Customer undertakes to use the Data Warehouse in accordance with the Regulations, the Agreement and with the technical documentation obtained.

13. The Customer may use the Data Warehouse via IT systems supplied by third parties, pursuant to separate agreements with regard to conditions set in this Regulations.

14. The Customer may use the Data Warehouse for the following purposes:
   1) Processing 1st Party Data,
   2) Licensing 1st Party Data,

15. As the Customer is the owner of 1st Party Data, such data is processed exclusively for their own purposes.

16. Should the Parties agree that the Service covers licensing the 1st Party Data to third parties, the Customer will be able to enter relevant settings in the administration panel.

Chapter 4. SERVICE LICENSE

1. As part of the Service, the Customer shall be granted access to the System.
2. Pursuant to the Agreement, Service Provider, in exchange for the remuneration set forth in the Order Form, grants a license to use the System to the Customer.
3. The license is granted pursuant to the following terms and conditions:
   a. The Customer may use the system exclusively for the purpose of managing the data that has been defined by the type of the Service provided.
   b. The Customer must not copy, decompile, modify, decipher, reverse engineer the System, nor attempt to gain access to the source code, protocols or access codes to the System in any other manner whatsoever.
   c. The Customer must not sublease, rent or sublicense the System to any third parties, or use the System in any other manner, except for the cases specifically allowed by these Regulations.
   d. The title in, right to and any other intellectual property rights related to the System shall remain the sole property of Service Provider. Service Provider shall retain any rights that have not been specifically granted to the Customer hereunder.

Chapter 5. LIABILITY

1. Service Provider shall not be liable for any potential losses and violations, including GDPR, resulting from:
   a. lack of continuity in the provision of the Service by Service Provider, resulting from the Customer’s actions that are in breach of the provisions of the the Agreement, or from the Customer’s omissions, or from actions or omissions of third parties for which the Customer is solely responsible,

b. an event of force majeure understood as an act of God that could not have been foreseen and that was beyond the control of the Parties, including, in particular, a failure affecting the network or the communications infrastructure of a third party relied upon to render the Service,

c. the Customer’s breaches of the provisions of this Regulations including breach of data protection regulation by the Customer or its partners.

2. The Customer shall indemnify and hold Service Provider harmless against any use of the content/materials/data supplied by the Customer to the System. The Customer undertakes that if direct third party claims are filed to Service Provider in relation to Service Provider’s use of the content/materials/data supplied by the Customer, the Customer shall take every effort to effectively release Service Provider from any responsibility for third party claims, and, in particular, the Customer shall furnish any data and documents that may prove useful in the course of such proceedings.

3. The liability of Service Provider towards the Customer shall be limited to actual losses only.

4. Should any third party claims be filed against Service Provider that are directly or indirectly related to the content/material/data supplied by the Customer, and, hence, related to the Service provided for the benefit of the Customer, and provided that such claims arise out of actions or omissions of the Customer, Service Provider shall be obliged to immediately notify the Customer about any such third party claims submitted to Service Provider. In such cases, Service Provider reserves the right to immediately suspend the provision of the Service, until the issue at hand has been clarified. In order to continue the provision of the service that has been suspended, the Customer shall be required to provide Service Provider with relevant documents confirming that the third party claims are not substantiated.

5. Service Provider shall have the right to immediately suspend the provision of the Service if reasonable doubts exist as to the correctness of the representations and to the fulfillment of the obligations set out in Chapter 2 of the Regulations.

6. For the avoidance of any interpretation-related doubts, the Parties jointly agree that in the case of the provision of the Service being suspended pursuant to the provisions of clause 4 or 5 above, the Customer shall not be released from his obligation to pay the remuneration due to Service Provider for the period of time over which the Service were rendered for the benefit of the Customer.

Chapter 6. REMUNERATION

1. The Parties shall have the right to receive, for the provision of the Service, remuneration set out in the Order Form.

2. The Parties represent that the remuneration provided for in the Agreement shall include all amounts due to a given Party for the performance of the Service, unless the Parties explicitly agree otherwise in a separate agreement. Any payment shall be deemed made on the date on which the Service Provider’s bank account has been credited.

3. The remuneration for the Service shall be worked out within 7 days from the end of the billing period and shall be increased by the VAT due.

4. Invoices shall be issued with a 14-day payment term and shall be payable by a wire transfer to the bank account specified therein.

5. Should the payment deadline specified in the VAT invoice be exceeded, the relevant Party shall be obliged to pay statutory interest for the period of time commencing on the first day of the delay.

Chapter 7. COMPLAINTS

1. Service Provider reviews complaints related to the proper operation of the System.

2. The Customer may submit their complaints related to the operation of the System by e-mail, to help@onaudience.com
3. Service Provider shall review the complaints without delay, but in no case later than within 14 calendar days from their submission.

4. The complaint should contain a description of the problem and the Customer data matching information specified while concluding the Agreement.

5. Service Provider shall provide a written reply to the complaint, on paper or by e-mail, to the address from which it has been received, or to the address specified in the Agreement.

Chapter 8. CONFIDENTIALITY

1. The Parties undertake mutually to treat as strictly confidential and not to disclose to any third party, without a prior express consent of the other Party provided in writing, any data, information and documents that are not publicly released by the disclosing Party the data relates to (“Confidential Information”), including information concerning the business activity of the Party, the technologies used, marketing, promotional and commercial plans, as, in particular, any technical, financial and economic data, including the related materials and documentation, any concepts, inventions, commercial secrets, projects and business plans, market research results and other information concerning a Party or its affiliated entities, customers, suppliers, products and services, price setting methods and sales strategies, as received from a Party, regardless of whether such information is in writing or has the form of, inter alia, computer programs, technical data, drawings, models, photographs, sketches, prototypes or test results.

2. The obligation to protect and keep Confidential Information secret shall apply regardless of whether such Confidential Information has been disclosed orally, in writing or in any other form, no matter of whether it has been specifically labeled as “confidential”, “restricted”, “secret” or otherwise, and whether it has been specifically labeled in any other manner, or not.

3. Access to Confidential Information shall only be provided to those individuals for whom such information is required in order to ensure proper performance of the Service for the Customers, and who have been informed about the confidential character of such information and about the obligations specified under this clause of the Regulations.

4. The requirement to keep the information confidential, as referred to in this clause, shall be binding upon the Parties both during the performance of the Service, as well as after such performance, termination, refusal to accept for performance or cancellation, throughout the term required to protect such Confidential Information.

Chapter 9. NOTICES

1. Any notices served in relation to the Conclusion of Agreement shall be drawn up electronically or on paper and submitted in person, sent by e-mail or by a registered letter, to the address of the relevant Party specified in the Order Form, or to any other address that the other Party has been notified about. Each notice (served in person, sent by e-mail or by a registered letter), shall be deemed duly served.

2. The Parties shall contact each other both personally, and with the use of the available means of communication (Internet, phone, other).

3. Changes of the contact persons referred in the Order Form shall not require changing of the Order Form. Such changes shall only require that the other Party shall be notified in writing.
